Report

by
Mr G. Rolleston-Stayward. H.M.S

June 9. '37

The condition of this small rural school is very creditable to its capable Head Mistress and her zealous Assistant.

The work is thoroughly planned, the teaching is intelligent and thorough, whilst the instruction is well adapted to meet the varied needs of the scholars in each class.

There is an excellent tone in the school and the children are very well-behaved, unusually responsive and keenly interested in their lessons.

A good standard of attainment is being maintained in the essential subjects whilst attendance was 34.9 Percentage 91.84

Jan 5th 1891 The Attendance was good. the average being 36.5. Including the boy excluded the percentage was 93.8.

The Rev J. B. Storey visited on Monday morning and brought a circular concerning the advisability of having the usual holiday in Whit. week. After consideration and taking into account the state of the work going on in gardens and on farms, such as the planting of late potatoes, it was decided that there could be no better time for the holiday between now and corn harvest.

Dec 12th to 16th Whitsuntide Holiday.

Jan 19th to 23rd Phillip Jennings is still absent; and has now been absent for nine months and Mabel Jennings has been away from home and absent all the week.
